"Asimo Company Issues Warning About Fake Document Related to Artist Khalil Ibrahim Jayhan

By Dr. Amal Abdulaziz

Publication Date: August 28, 2023

Asimo Company, known for its expertise in electronic account management, has issued a warning regarding the spread of a fake document with a fabricated title and misleading content. The deceptive document aims to deceive the public by providing details related to costs and sessions of meetings with the artist Khalil Ibrahim Jayhan. According to the warning posted on its social media accounts, the fake document contains false details, including the cost of alleged meetings and sessions with the famous artist. The document in detail describes how the meetings are conducted and the procedures to be taken by interested parties, in addition to requesting the submission of specific documents by those wishing to conduct the meeting.

However, Asimo Company confirmed that this document is entirely false and completely fabricated. The company urged the public to ignore any content coming from unreliable sources and to exercise caution when dealing with such suspicious documents.

It's worth noting that the artist Khalil Ibrahim Jayhan (@halilibrahimceyhn) has issued an official statement denying any connection to this fake document, affirming that it is an attempt to deceive the public and promote false information.

The public should remain aware of official news and updates provided by trustworthy and recognized sources, and exercise caution when encountering such fraudulent attempts."

Spain includes the series "Wild Strawberry Syrup Kızılıcık Şerbeti" in its drama lineup, starring Sıla Torkođlu.

By Dr. Amal Abdulaziz

Publication Date: August 28, 2023

Spain announced today its acquisition of the broadcasting rights for the popular Turkish series "Kızılıcık Şerbeti" (One Love), which is beloved in Turkey and several Arab countries. This decision aims to strengthen cultural exchange between the two countries and provide distinctive entertainment content for the Spanish audience.

Young actress Sıla Türkođlu takes on the lead role in the series, offering her exceptional artistic talents. The series, titled "One Love #onelove," is set to air in Spain.

The series "Kızılıcık Şerbeti" is scheduled to be broadcast on Spanish television screens later this year. Anticipated warmly by Spanish viewers, the show is awaited eagerly for its captivating storyline.

This step is a result of efforts to enhance cultural cooperation between Turkey and Spain, reflecting both countries' commitment to providing a unique entertainment experience and sharing their distinct cultural elements.

"Turkish artist Elif Ben Naouf is nominated to become the global ambassador for the brand Hummel. Exclusive news by Bal Arabi Turkey."

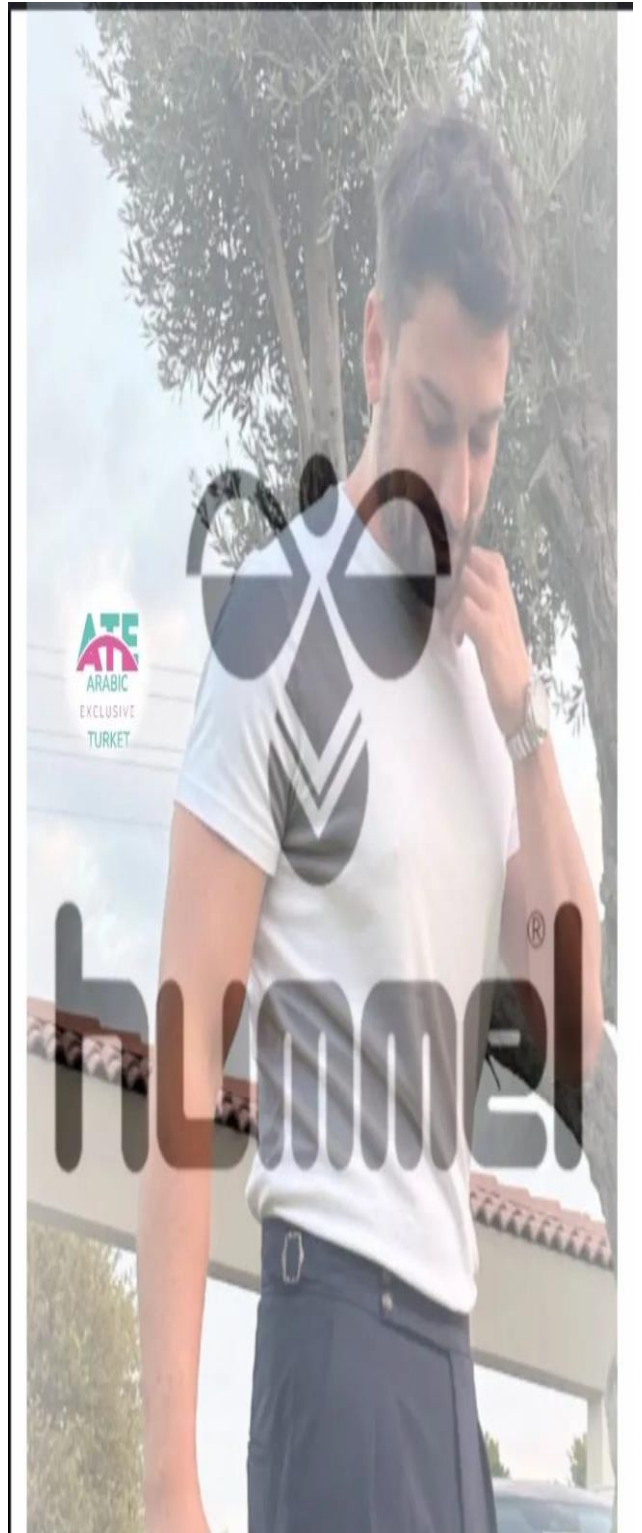

Fashion and sportswear companies are taking bold marketing steps by choosing public figures to represent their brands. In this context, the world is witnessing an inspiring and controversial announcement of the famous Turkish artist El-B Nafruz being nominated as the face of the global brand Hummel.

Currently, El-B Nafruz is considering the offer, and final approval has not been granted yet. We will keep you updated with all the details as they unfold.

Hummel, founded in 1923 as a Danish sportswear company, has become one of the most renowned brands worldwide. Known for its innovative and bold designs that blend tradition and modernity, Hummel's choice of El-B Nafruz as its advertising face aims to expand the brand's influence and raise public awareness.

El-B Nafruz, acclaimed for his diverse and distinctive roles in cinema and television, is a symbol of attraction and luxury in the Turkish entertainment industry. His persona combines physical appeal with artistic charm, making him an ideal choice to represent Hummel, a brand that strives for innovation and cultural inclusivity.

This bold marketing move reflects a new trend in advertising, presenting products through well-known figures who can effectively inspire and engage the target audience. If the collaboration comes to fruition, it's expected to be mutually beneficial: El-B Nafruz adding a touch of authenticity and luxury to advertising campaigns, while Hummel brings appeal and freshness to his artistic journey.

In conclusion, El-B Nafruz's nomination as the advertising face of Hummel indicates that brands aim to leverage the artistic and popular appeal of public figures to creatively and attractively promote their products.

"A Turkish Star's Visit to Egypt: A Aesthetic Encounter of Art and Heritage"

Prominent Turkish actor, Burak Özçivit, embarked on a journey to the Egyptian land, participating in a work session and a photoshoot in 6th of October City. The advertisement was crafted under the supervision of the young creative mind, Ahmed Abdelghafar Shazly, and witnessed the presence of producer Hakan Eren. Mr. Hussein Mahmoud, the director of relations, took charge of the travel and accommodation arrangements.

Burak Özçivit found his stay at the elegant Egyptian hotel "Shadow Pyramids Inn," located near Giza in Cairo. During his visit, the Turkish actor delighted in a tourist excursion, exploring Egypt's wonders from the Pyramids to the Sphinx. Özçivit expressed his immense joy about this journey, confirming his elation for visiting Egypt once again.

The tourist expedition and the photoshoot extended over only two days, with the photoshoot itself taking a mere seven hours. Following the session, both Burak Özçivit and director Ahmed Abdelghafar Shazly made their way to the airport, pressed for time due to the constraints they had to adhere to.

Regarding the well-known advertisement company that Burak Özçivit was promoting, its name is set to be unveiled in the upcoming official announcement. This decision is a mark of respect for the wishes of the advertising company and the directors. The release of the advertisement is scheduled a month and a half after the photoshoot, owing to reasons related to Burak Özçivit's schedule.

The visit of Turkish actor Burak Özçivit to Egypt was far more than just a work session and photoshoot—it was a harmonious fusion of art and heritage. This encounter magnificently brought together the splendor of the Egyptian scene and the radiance of a Turkish star, promising an eagerly anticipated and captivating advertisement for the audience.

- ◆ According to sources, the start of filming for the second season was confirmed on July 22, 2023.
- ◆ At the end of August, the teaser and official promo for the second season will be released.
- ◆ New episodes will be broadcast starting from September, and so far, 180 episodes have been written.
- ◆ Filming has also been completed up to episode 178, indicating that the production is progressing smoothly.
- ◆ The first episodes of the series start in the hospital, then there's a time gap of no more than 3 months. In the initial episodes, the protagonist will search for the heroine, and when he finds her, there will be a major fight between Baran and other men. Baran will enter the house, break everything, and attack everyone to take Dilan. He will ask Dilan to go with him, and when she refuses, he'll forcefully take her, threatening to harm her if she returns to Baran.
- ◆ If some family members die in this fire (it's possible that a few actors might not return, like Pirivan Teyze from previous seasons).
- ◆ Will Barış and Yağmur be there in the second season? Yes, neither of them will withdraw.
- ◆ There's no change in the color of the Karabey Palace; the mismatched color image is from an old show called "Wadi al-Dhahab."
- ◆ The circulating rumor that Dilan will lose her memory is false, given recent events in the series.
- ◆ There's no change in the palace's location or shooting place for the second part. There are actually two grand palaces: the first is Karabey Palace, and the second belongs to the show's producer Sevda Kaygiz. She shared this on her Instagram story.
- ◆ According to reliable journalistic sources, Kenan Gültekin left the show, but Ömer Baykul will continue. It's said these actors are part of season 2. Azadi Delogos will be in season 2.

◆ The second season of the "Zahret Al-Dam" series will be aired on Monday, September 18, at the same channel and time slot, 4:00 PM.

◆ Two new characters for the series:

- Actress Nazan Bayazit in the role of Sabiha.

- Actress Dilan Duzguner in the role of Havine.

◆ The second season will have over 200 episodes. The blood case will be revisited, but roles will be reversed. Dylan will discover that Baran's family is responsible for her family's destruction, and her real father's situation will be revealed, similar to what happened with Baran in the first season.

◆ Filming has been completed up to episode 190 as of today.

◆ The second part of the "Zahret Al-Dam" series will conclude in early July 2024.

"Mulberry Syrup Series: Production Challenges and Artistic Oversight"

Written by Dr. Amal Abdel Aziz

The TV series "Mulberry Syrup" is one of the dramatic works that sparks controversy and addresses important social issues. The series premiered in its first season, but it didn't pass without crises, as it faced strict penalties from the Broadcasting and Television Regulatory Authority.

The controversy revolved around a specific scene in the series, where the female character Nursima, portrayed by actress Jiren Karakoc, is pushed out of the window by the man she was forced into marriage with. These scenes were deemed offensive and violent against women, leading to punitive actions being taken.

In a swift reaction, the Higher Council of Broadcasting and Television issued a ruling imposing an administrative fine and suspending the broadcast of the series for five weeks. These penalties were implemented, with the show being suspended for two weeks, but the case continued in court.

The producer of the series, Farouk Turgut, rejected these penalties and objected to them with the assistance of lawyer Hakan Iranpinar. Strong arguments were presented, emphasizing artistic expression freedom and the importance of openly discussing social issues in artistic works.

Penalidade da RTürk para Kızılıcık Şerbeti cancelada

O Conselho Superior da Rádio e Televisão condenou à multa administrativa e 5 vezes à suspensão da emissão, alegando que a cena em que a personagem Nursema, interpretada pela bem-sucedida atriz Ceren Karakoç, foi empurrada da janela pelo homem que foi forçada a casar, continha um elemento de violência contra as mulheres.

A parte de 2 semanas da pena foi aplicada e os documentários enviados pela RTÜK foram veiculados na Show TV durante o horário de exibição da série. Era uma questão de curiosidade se as 3 semanas restantes de suspensão de transmissão da série seriam aplicadas. A Gold Film, representada pelo advogado Hakan Ayrancınar, opôs-se à decisão. O 22º Tribunal Administrativo de Ancara considerou pesada a sentença proferida na ação movida pela Gold Film e a anulou.

Penalidade da RTürk para Kızılıcık Şerbeti cancelada

O 22º Tribunal Administrativo de Ancara cancelou a sentença restante da série fenômeno da Show TV "Kızılıcık Şerbeti", que foi suspensa 5 vezes na temporada passada.

As filmagens da segunda temporada da série de TV "Kızılıcık Şerbeti" começam amanhã (30/08). Há notícias que deixam a equipe, o canal e os fãs muito felizes com a série fenômeno assinada pela Gold Film, que é do chefe do produtor da Show TV, Faruk Turgut .

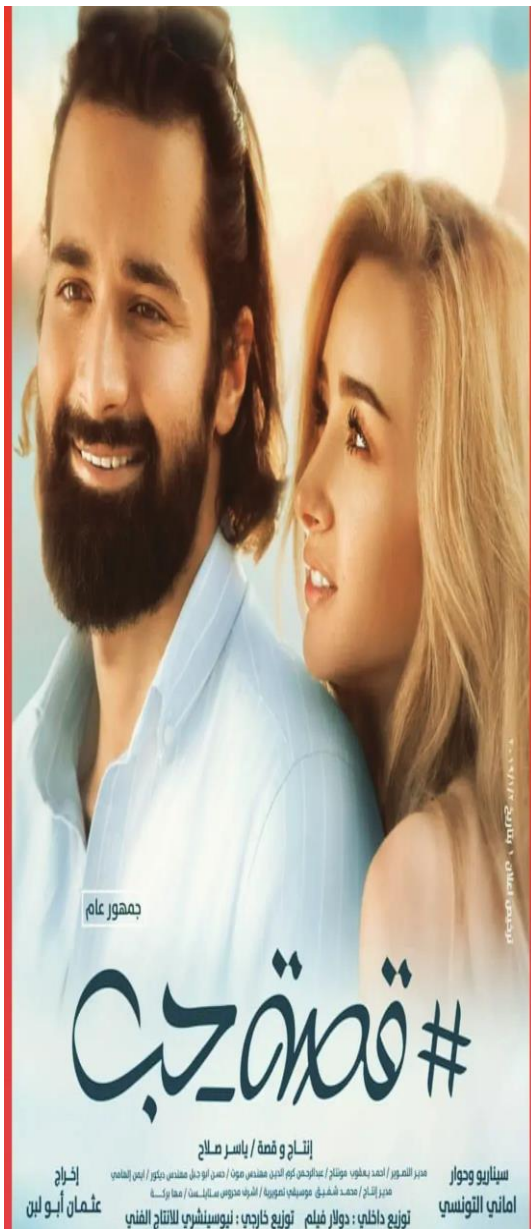

In the end, the 22nd Administrative Court in Ankara decided to permanently cancel the verdict against the production company Gold Film. This decision represents a victory for creative freedom and artistic expression, meaning the series will resume filming its second season.

In summary, the "Mulberry Syrup" series highlights the challenges of artistic production in the face of strict oversight and social controversy. Its experience reminds us of the importance of balancing creative freedom with the responsibility of discussing sensitive issues within an innovative artistic framework.

The shooting of the second part of the "Love Story" film is set to commence on the 1st of October.

Dr. Amal Abdel Aziz wrote:

The spotlight is turning towards the world of cinema, as preparations are in full swing for the release of the second installment of the film "Love Story". Scheduled to commence on the 1st of October, the filming process follows the successful completion of meticulous preparations related to the script and direction, achieved by mid-September.

This artistic step witnesses the emergence of the brightest stars of the screen, as the charismatic Ahmed Hatem and the exceptional actress Hana El Zahid take the lead in the cast. Both have previously dazzled in the first part of the film. The allure, however, doesn't confine itself to the screen alone; it extends to the production team that collaborates for the success of this exceptional cinematic project.

Amal Tunisian, the distinguished screenwriter, shoulders the responsibility of penning the script for this part. Audiences anticipate surpassing their expectations with engrossing and captivating plot twists and dialogues. In terms of direction, the accomplished filmmaker Othman Abu Laban takes the helm, imparting his creative touches to every facet of the film.

Reliable industry sources predict that the film will be presented to art enthusiasts in February of the upcoming year. This timing mirrors an eagerly awaited period filled with anticipation and excitement to witness the developments and intricacies of this gripping narrative.

Certainly, this move marks a pivotal milestone in the realm of cinema. The dedicated production team is committed to delivering a cinematic experience that resonates with hearts and evokes emotions. As the audience eagerly awaits the moment when the film graces the big screens, the enthusiasm remains ablaze to uncover the surprises and remarkable developments that this story holds.

"Alia Bassiouny and Ahmed Saad's Separation: Between Surprise and Family Challenges"

Dr. Amal Abdel Aziz wrote:

In a news piece that shook social media and captured public attention, actress Alia Bassiouny officially announced her divorce from her husband, the artist Ahmed Saad. This announcement was made through her Instagram account via a short story, accompanied by poignant words that revealed details of the separation and her personal experiences during this period.

In her statement, Alia Bassiouny clarified that the divorce was initiated by her husband Ahmed Saad. She expressed her gratitude to him for his "unpleasant demeanor and poor behavior," indicating that she had exerted efforts and struggled for the sake of their family and the home they had started building. She added that she had attempted to adhere to situations that served their family's interests, but was met with a sudden decision of divorce that shattered the family they had been striving to build.

With honesty and candor, Alia addressed the difficult times she experienced during the process of separation. She described how she took care of her daughter alone for three days while her husband was engrossed in his activities. She also expressed her displeasure with his actions, which affected the course of their relationship and their shared future.

Her acknowledgment of the value of the relationship and the sacrifices she made for it cannot be overlooked. She accused her husband of failing to recognize this value and of betraying her trust. Her words were focused on her disappointment and the experiences she had during their marriage.

Despite their separation, hope and determination always remain a part of this story. Despite the challenges and hardships Alia faced, she remains optimistic about her future and the future of her daughters. Her expression that God is with her signifies her inner strength and confidence in facing what lies ahead.

The article cannot disregard the details of their marriage and the events that transpired in their relationship, from their marriage in August 2021 until the time of their separation. The public has witnessed their journey and its evolution, making this announcement of divorce a poignant matter for the audience.

In conclusion, the separation of Alia Bassiouny and Ahmed Saad serves as yet another example of the challenges that marital relationships face in the world of entertainment and media. Their experience sheds light on the difficulties that can arise in marital life, even among public figures, and serves as a reminder that success in maintaining a relationship requires effort and understanding from both parties.

the handsome star Alp Navruz has decided to end his contract with the renowned clothing brand Defacto

Dr. Amal Abdel Aziz wrote:

"In a surprising announcement for fashion and shopping enthusiasts, the handsome star Alp Navruz has decided to end his contract with the renowned clothing brand Defacto, relinquishing his role as the brand ambassador for the upcoming season. The news was penned by Dr. Amal Abdel Aziz and published on August 11, 2023.

Alp Navruz, who shined as the face of Defacto, also revealed that he will complete his final season campaign for the brand. He is set to appear in a new advertisement in the coming weeks, continuing his role as the ambassador for trendy clothing.

It's worth mentioning that seasonal contracts are a crucial part of the fashion world, typically renewed periodically according to the different seasons of the year—spring, summer, fall, and winter. While it was initially expected that the young actress Efram Sara Oglu would be the female face of the same brand and was supposed to feature in an ad alongside Alp Navruz, surprising information emerged about a last-minute change in Defacto's advertisements.

In an exciting twist, leaked information indicates that the brand has extended an offer to the young actor Mert Ramadan Demir to become the male face of Defacto. Agreements have been reached with both Afra Sara Oglu and Mert for commercial contracts, each valued at a significant ten million dollars, double the previous compensation of Alp Navruz.

The reason behind this change lies in Alp Navruz's recent decline in popularity and Mert Ramadan Demir's rising fame. Additionally, Defacto is a youthful brand, and Mert's youthful appearance on screen aligns more with the brand's image compared to Alp Navruz. Furthermore, the popularity of both Mert and Afra as a successful duo played a role in reshuffling the plans of various brands and actors, benefiting everyone involved.

It's important to note that this decision has led Defacto to alter its business strategy at the last moment. With Mert's acceptance of the offer, Afra Sara Oglu shifted from her previous partner Alp Navruz to Mert, who will become the brand's male face alongside her in the upcoming season's advertisements.

Apart from his success as a brand ambassador for Defacto, the handsome star Alp Navruz has received numerous offers for roles in TV series and films following his remarkable performance in the series 'Hürek İmazi.' He has approved two offers—one for a TV series and the other for a movie—heightening the anticipation of his audience for his future works. We'll keep you updated with all the new details as they come in."

The latest news about the TV series "Dirty Basket"

The latest news about the TV series "Dirty Basket" is that production teams completed cast rehearsals on July 21, 2023, and filming has commenced for the exciting opening scenes. This highly anticipated series, blending elements of American mystery, drama, comedy, and Turkish drama, has generated significant interest from both Turkish and Arab audiences. The show's storyline is a fusion of two famous American series, "Desperate Housewives" and "Maid." "Desperate Housewives" gained global acclaim for its mysterious and comedic narrative, while "Maid," created by Molly Smith, contributed strong and impactful content to the drama scene. "Dirty Basket" is set to offer a unique blend of suspense, humor, and human drama, featuring a gripping story revolving around women living in a seemingly tranquil community but embroiled in secrets and mysteries.

The production team confirmed that Turkish actor Khalil İbrahim Jihan has officially joined the cast, and his performance is expected to add to his remarkable artistic achievements. In the coming days, viewers can anticipate glimpses of behind-the-scenes moments, including the promotional poster photoshoot and intriguing interviews with the cast to learn about their preparations for this exceptional project.

Fans are eagerly anticipating the first glimpse of the cast in action, as exclusive shots from photoshoot sessions will be showcased, unveiling secrets and intriguing details. "Dirty Basket" is scheduled for release soon on Turkish television screens, and it's poised to captivate both viewers and critics, predicted to achieve remarkable success in the realm of Turkish drama.

The TV series "Curly Serenity" presents a touching and captivating story about a group of women working as maids in a luxurious residential complex. The series delves into complex social and psychological themes that impact the lives of these women, creating an emotional journey filled with suspense and anticipation.

The story kicks off when Miriam, a cleaning worker, jumps from a villa's window where she works and tragically ends her life, causing an emotional earthquake in the lives of both the working women and the homeowners.

Songul, a cleaning worker and a key character in the series, experiences a major shock due to this tragic event. She tries to cope with the mysterious aftermath of the incident on her personal life and her relationship with her daughter Elkül, who is in university. The events take a heated dramatic turn as tensions and internal conflicts escalate.

Furthermore, the series introduces a diverse range of impactful characters, including Janan, the homeowner, and Hayriye, the new worker hired by Songul. Ahmed, Janan's son, and Fiyaz, Yasmin's husband, along with other characters, contribute to the development and complexity of the storyline.

Among the significant characters is the daring journalist Kahraman, who investigates Miriam's death and uncovers the buried secrets behind this tragic event. Kahraman will face new and unexpected challenges during his investigation, making the series even more appealing and suspenseful.

Additionally, the series portrays the story of the city's cleaning worker, showing how the fates of different characters intertwine and intersect in this complex society.

In short, "Curly Serenity" is an exceptional piece of art worth watching. It tackles important and profound themes dealing with human and psychological relationships in an impactful and intricate manner. Mixing excitement and suspense with psychological drama, it piques curiosity and captures the audience's attention, making it an enjoyable and thought-provoking viewing experience.
